

3rd International Symposium on Edible Plant Resources and the Bioactive Ingredients

(second circular)

The 3rd International Symposium on Edible Plant Resources and the Bioactive Ingredients (ISEPR2012) will be held on July 28th to 31st, 2012 in Urumqi, Xinjiang, China. The goal of ISEPR2012 is to provide an opportunity to exchange the achievements in the studies on resources, cultivations, chemical constituents, bioactivities and medical applications of edible plants, to discuss the hot points and the core problems in the relevant fields, and to foresee the prospect in basic researches and technologies. The latest developments in this field home and abroad are expected to promote scientific exchanges, cooperation and communications among the scientists around the world.

The date and site of the symposium has been fixed. The specific information is as follows.

Sponsor

Xinjiang Technical Institute of Physics and Chemistry, Chinese Academy of Sciences
Foreign Experts Bureau of Xinjiang Uighur Autonomous Region

Organizer

Key Laboratory of Plant Resources and Chemistry in Arid Regions, Chinese Academy of Sciences

State Key Laboratory Basis of Xinjiang indigenous medicinal plants resource utilization

Counselor Wang Kui Academician (Peking University)

Chairman Prof. Haji Akber Aisa (Xinjiang Technical Institute of Physics and Chemistry, CAS)

Date July 28th to 31st, 2012

Site Torch Hotel, Urumqi, Xinjiang, People's Republic of China

Languages English

Themes for the symposium

- Fundamental studies on drugs and functional food basis on edible plants
- Novel methodologies and technologies of analysis and isolation of active ingredients in edible plants
- New methodologies of identification and molecular biology researches on the active ingredients from edible plants
- Functional factors of edible plants preventing crucial diseases
- Novel methodologies and technologies in synthesis and structure optimization of the functional factors from edible plants
- Cultivation techniques of edible plants

Form of the Symposium

- Invited lectures
- Plenary lectures
- Session presentations and discussion
- Poster sessions (poster size: 900mm width × 1200mm length)
- Tourism: the organizing committee will arrange half or one-day tourism to appreciate the nature view and culture of Xinjiang
